

AUSTRIA MAKES WARLIKE MOVESMinister of War and Chief of Staff Suddenly Resign.

ENTIRE FLEET ASSEMBLING

Negotiations for Temporary Loan of Fifty Million Dollars at Vienna Also Aids in Producing Disquieting Effect.
Austrian War Party Seems to Be Inflamed Against Both Russia and France.**
Vienna, Dec. 10.—Important changes have taken place in the Austro-Hungarian war department. General Aussenberg, the minister of war, has resigned. General Krobatin, under secretary in the war office,
has been appointed as his successor.
General Scheau, chief of the general staff, who recently paid
a significant visit to Berlin and conferred with Count von Moltke, chief of the general staff of the German army, has also resigned. He has been succeeded by General von Hoetendorf, who held the same post several years ago.
London, Dec. 10.—Sudden resignation of the Austro-Hungarian minister of war, General Aussenberg,
and the chief of general staff, General Scheau, the reported concentration of the entire Austrian fleet at Pola, its chief naval station, and Austria's negotiations for a temporary loan of $50,000, 000, were chief developments in the Balkan war situation.No explanation is yet forthcoming
of the Austrian war department changes and, coming at such a time
as the present, it cannot be doubted that it will have a wide political significance.It had been expected that in event of war General von Hoetendorf would be appointed chief of staff and his appointment now to succeed General Scheau, coupled with the news of the renewal of the dreadnought and that Austria-Hungary has negotiated temporary loans of $50,000,000, cannot but have a disquieting effect on the situation.It is supposed that Austria wishes possibly to exert a strong influence over the coming conference proceedings in London and especially to prevent the entry of Turkey into the Balkan federation. The Austrian war party is known to be inflamed against Russia in the belief that the defiant
Russian attitude is due to the Franco-Russian alliance.Some of the Austrian newspapers, representing the war party, are urging that, unless Russia ceases mobilizing, the powers comprising the triple alliance should fall upon France and crush her before Russia is able to intervene.However the crisis may end, the war fever is having a disastrous effect on Austro-Hungarian trade. A complete financial stagnation prevailed throughout Galicia, where the various banks recently have paid out more than $40, 000,000 to nervous depositors without stepping the run.

CHRISTIAN ATROCITIES BAD

Most Inhuman Massacres in History
Reported in Saloniki.London, Dec. 10.—Detailed accounts have been wired to their respective governments by the German, French, English and Italian consuls of inhuman massacres of unarmed Moslems
by the Balkan Christian soldiers in the environs of Saloniki, says the Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who describes the horrors as the most appalling of any known in history. The massacres, he avers, were accompanied by indescribable
tortures and indignities.

Armistice Is Disregarded.

Cettinje, Dec. 10.—Owing to the refusal of the governor of Scutari to recognize the armistice the Montenegrins
also have decided to disregard
it. As a consequence hostilities were resumed at Tarabosch, where the Turks were paralysed with losses.

DIES IN HUSBAND'S ARMS

Bodies of Couple Drowned While Skating Found.Hudson, Wis., Dec. 10.—The bodies of A. L. Tilseth and wife, who left here on skates for their home in Lakeland, Minn., were found in the channel of the St. Croix river.
When the searching party lifted them to the ice with grappling hooks
a pathetic sight met their eyes. Mr.
Tilseth held the body of his wife in close embrace. Evidently realizing that death was near for both of them
he determined that she should die in his arms.A strand of the woman's hair frozen to the ice kept the bodies from becoming lost.

ALLEGES TREATY VIOLATION

Document Written by Sir Edward Grey, British Foreign Minister, Winds Up With Proposal That Issues Should Be Settled by Arbitration in the Event That Diplomacy Fails to Find Common Ground.Washington, Dec. 10.—Great Britain's formal note of protest against that section of the Panama canal act which exempts American coastwise shipping from payment of tolls for passing through the Panama canal, a document written by Sir Edward Grey,
British minister for foreign affairs,
was presented to the secretary of state, Philander C. Knox, by British Ambassador James Bryce, who read
the note word for word to the secretary at the latter's home. It is an elaboration of the points of objection
in the note presented to the state department last July. In brief these objections are:That while it was clearly in violation of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty either to remit or refund tolls on all American shipping using the canal
the same objection probably would apply to the coastwise trade shipping,
in view of the probable impossibility of framing regulations that would not result in a preference to American shipping.In addition to supporting these points by long arguments Sir Edward Grey indicates clearly that strong resistance will be offered to any attempt to exclude from the canal British ships owned by Canadian railroads or whose owners may be guilty of violating the Sherman anti-trust act. He holds that this section of the act cannot apply to British shipping, but only to United States vessels.He indicates also that underlying the objection to the exemption from tolls of American coastwise ships is an apprehension that in the future the principle might be extended to cover
American ships in foreign trade.Claims Violation of Treaty.
Otherwise the note is devoted almost entirely to an effort to demonstrate that any such exemption of American shipping as proposed is in direct conflict with the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty and that President Taft was clearly wrong when he took the contrary view.Generally the British note might be summed up as a clear definition of the differences between the two governments regarding the construction of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, winding up with a proposal that the issues
should be settled by arbitration, provided that they cannot be adjusted by mutual agreement for which a way remains open.Secretary Knox promised to take the matter under careful consideration,
which he felt would require some time.
It has been strongly intimated in official circles, however, that it was the president's intention to settle this important question before closing his administration, either by recommending that the senate agree to submit it to arbitration, or, preferably, by the more direct means of an agreement between the two nations, referred to in the British note.Sir Edward Grey begins his note with the statement that the president does not fully appreciate the British point of view and has misunderstood even the note of July 8. He says it is not the case that the British government seeks to prevent the United States from granting subsidies to its own shipping passing through the canal, nor does it seek to deprive the United States of any liberty, which is open either to Great Britain or to any other nation, to encourage its own shipping or own commerce by subsidies.

SEVERE CROSS-EXAMINATION

Witness Denies His Letters Referred to Explosions.Indianapolis, Dec. 10.—Edward E.
Phillips, Syracuse, N. Y., one of the forty-one defendants in the so called dynamite conspiracy trial, was subjected to severe cross-examination by the government concerning his vote for the re-election of John J. McNamara as secretary at the Milwaukee convention of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers in September, 1911, five months after McNamara was arrested for dynamiting.Phillips, as secretary of a Syracuse
local union, told of many letters he wrote to McNamara, but denied that they pertained to proposed explosions.

NO NOBEL PRIZE IN 1912

Norwegian Parliament Cannot Find Any Person Worthy of Award.Christiania, Dec. 10.—The Nobel peace prize will not be awarded this year. This is the first time since the establishment of the Nobel foundation, the first award of which was made in 1901, that the committee of the Norwegian parliament has found no person worthy of the award. It has been recommended that the prize, approximately $40,000, shall be retained for the benefit of the foundation
fund.TRAIN ROBBERS GET $20,000 IN GOLDSlug Express Messenger and Make Their Escape.Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 10.—Twenty thousand dollars in gold was the haul of two robbers who held up the express car of the Sunset Western train, bound from Bakersfield for Taft, Cal.
The money was consigned to the First National bank of Taft by the First National bank of Bakersfield. It was not placed in the express safe.When the train arrived at Taft railroad men were forced to break down
the door of the express car. In a corner covered with mail sacks was A.
W. Hamby, the express messenger,
who was just regaining consciousness.
Hamby was injured about the head,
but physicians who examined him declared that he was apparently not seriously hurt.Hamby could give but few details of the robbery. He said two men entered the car just as the train was leaving Maricopa. He did not know whether they were masked and was unable to tell how he was rendered unconscious.He said he was just recovering consciousness as the train entered Taft,
about half an hour after the robbery.
He appeared still to be suffering from the effects of the blow and was incoherent. He could give no description of the robbers.

North Dakota Bank Robber Gets Stiff
Sentence.Crosby, N. D., Dec. 10.—Charles Lenzen was sentenced to twenty years in the North Dakota penitentiary for participating in the robbery
three weeks ago of the State bank of Noonan. He stood trial and was convicted of highway robbery in the first degree.His companion, George Donahue, pleaded guilty to the charge and as a result received a sentence twelve and one-half years less than that given Lenzen.Lenzen and Donahue walked into the bank about 7:30 o'clock in the evening while the cashier and clerks were about to close up, they having been working late. On the counter was piled $1,410 and this the men took while they kept the cashier and his assistants covered with revolvers.
Their flight was ended nine hours
afterwards on a Soo train near Portal.
The money was recovered.

Five Witnesses Testify in Case at St. Paul.St. Paul, Dec. 10.—Five witnesses were examined in the hearing of the government's suit against the International Harvester company, charged with violation of the Sherman antitrust law. The hearing has been continued from St. Louis, where evidence was taken last week. The hearing will adjourn Thursday or Friday.
Thirty-five witnesses, all implement dealers and salesmen, are to be examined.Evidence was aimed to show for the government what control over the sale of harvesters and farm implements the International Harvester company has in the Northwest. The predominance of the company in binder twine sales also was featured."FRANK" REPLY

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS' QUIP.

Only Three Republican Senators Will
Be in the Senate After March 4 Who Served in That Body When the Democrats Were in Control—Good Roads May Be Assured This Year.By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—It is a good thing that a generous government allows senators and representatives the privilege of franking their letters on official business. Were this not the case every Democratic senator and representative would go broke in paying postage on replies to requests for office.Since the victory last November the mails of all these men who are supposed to have any influence have been doodled with requests for office. Many Democrats are beginning to believe that victory is worse than defeat.John Sharp Williams claims that a mistake has been made in the last census, which credited Mississippi with about 3,000,000 population. He says that about double that number have written to him from his state asking him to support them for office
under the new administration.Reason For It.
There is reason. The records of congress show how long it has been since the Democrats had pite to distribute.
Only three Republican senators will
be in the senate after March 4 who served in that body when the Democrats were in control. They are Gal-linger, Lodge and Perkins. Clark of Wyoming was there for about a month. Only four Republicans, Payne of New York, Bartholdt of Missouri, Cooper of Wisconsin and Gillett of Massachusetts, served in the house, when the Democrats controlled that body who will be members after March 4.Has No Candidate.
Congressman Fitzgerald of New York, although holding the important position of chairman of the committee on appropriations, says that he has no candidate for a cabinet position under Governor Wilson. However, he has several candidates in his district for government positions.Good Roads This Year.
Congressman Shackelford of Missouri, who was author of the house proposal for expenditure of federal money
on rural postal roads, declares that it will carry in the postoffice bill this year. They called Shackelford the "dirt road statesman" after he put forward his measure."That didn't hurt me a bit at home," remarked the Missouriian.
"Nor me, either," remarked Cullip of Indiana, "and I talked it everywhere
I went in my district."Impressed on His Memory.
Henry H. Ward is a graduate of the Naval academy and did very efficient service during the Spanish war. "I went to one of the preparatory schools,"
said Ward, "when I was getting ready for my entrance examination, and that man did put facts and necessary knowledge in my head."
"Mr. Ward," he said one day, "do you know where Kenesaw mountain is?"
"Well, I had never heard of Kenesaw mountain. A member of the Landis family had been named for it, but he hadn't fired the Standard Oil company $20,000,000 at that time.""Kenesaw mountain," said the professor, "is in the northern part of Louisiana. A very fierce battle was fought there during the civil war. That information may be very useful to you in a day or two. Mr. Ward, so don't forget it." And I have never forgotten it," concluded Ward.And yet the entire Landis family knows that Kenesaw mountain is in the northern part of Georgia.Gardner a Target.
Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts was once one of Roosevelt's devoted friends. But that is not the case now. Gardner could not stand Roosevelt's late theories and became a Taft adherent. "I was the target
for the bull moosers in Massachusetts," said Gardner. "I was the particular man they wanted to defeat. They went at me viciously, but by good luck and the indulgence of the people of my district I was able to defeat the bull moose and the Democrat also."

Not Much Economy Talk.

There are not many boasts about economy in government expenditures this year. The appropriations of the last session about equaled the amounts appropriated in the corresponding session, when the Republicans were in control. There was a difference of about $6,000,000.The Democrats are now facing a proposition which will mean larger appropriations than the Republicans made in their last session. This is owing to a very large river and harbor bill and a deficit for pensions of something like $20,000,000.The Sherwood pension bill, which was figured to cost not more than $30, 000,000, will cost about $50,000,000
every year. There is also the possibility of a public building bill, which will further increase expenditures.

eral Wickersham, it is understood here, will not order the dismissal of the indictments returned at Dallas, Tex., last August against John D.
Archbold, president of the Standard Oil company, and others for the alleged violation of the Sherman anti-

grand jury inquiry in an effort to secure sufficient evidence to sustain the indictments.Meanwhile it is not known whether warrants for arrest under these indictments will be served on Mr. Archbold, H. C. Folger, Jr., and W. C. Te-

When Cannon Bursts.New York, Dec. 10.—While the explosion of small guns have taken scores of lives, when the big gun of 14-inch caliber and of fifty tons weight, the largest and newest type built by the United States government at a cost of $130,000, exploded at the Sandy Hook proving grounds it did not cause so much as a scratch to the men around it.The two-ton breech block was blown a quarter of a mile, the muzzle was hurled still further away and fragments spread in every direction, but Ordnance Officer Michael Brennan, who was standing on the temporary disappearing carriage, was not struck, although the structure itself was wrecked. Brennan was thrown many yards but sustained hardly a bruise.The other officers and men in charge of the firing were behind a bombproof wall which protected them
from injury.
The big gun, which hurled a projectile weighing 1,600 pounds at a range of 12,000 yards, was successfully fired several times in tests last month and was believed to be in perfect condition. A charge of 340 pounds of smokeless powder is used.

DUKE AFTER THE CONSUMER

Witness Testifies He Said Retailer
Should Raise Prices.New York, Dec. 10.—"The consumer is the man I am after." These words were attributed to James B. Duke, the tobacco magnate, by Albert H. Hillman, a tobacco jobber, who was a witness in the $300,000 damage suit brought by John E. Locker of Brooklyn against the American Tobacco company, which is being tried in the United States court here.Hillman described a discussion regarding tobacco prices he said he had with Duke about the time of the organization of the Metropolitan Tobacco company. He said he protested that jobbers could not stand an advance in prices and Duke replied:
"Raise your price to the retailer.
Let the retailer raise his price to the consumer. The consumer is the man
I am after. If the retailers won't raise prices we will establish retail stores of our own."

using the mails to defraud. Cement dealers throughout the country have lost sums aggregating $120,000, according to the charges.The defendants named are Arthur
G. Marshall of New York, Albert S.
Marshall of Chicago, Harry W. Williams of Sheboygan, Wis., Albert T.
Kirk of Shell City, Mo.The Empire Portland Cement company was incorporated in South Dakota in 1910 with an authorized capital of $2,500,000. The indictment charges that the defendants conspired
to have large plants at Portsmouth,

stock to cement dealers with an agreement that cement of equal value
would be given as a bonus with purchases of preferred stock. No cement was delivered on these contracts, it is

Report of Economy and Efficiency Commission Sent to Congress.Washington, Dec. 10.—Radical changes in patent office procedure
were recommended to congress in a special report by the economy and efficiency commission, transmitted by President Taft. The principal recommendations were:Limitation upon the life of a patent to nineteen years from date of application, exclusive of two years during which it may be in litigation; an increase from $15 to $20 for the filing fee; change in procedure to permit
an inventor to appeal from the augmented board of examiners-in-chief directly to the court of appeals of the Department of Columbia, instead of
through the commissioners of patents,
and increases in salaries and force amounting to $236,000 a year.

out trafficking or dickering with the platform principles embodied in the laws of Illinois," was the appeal Colonel Roosevelt made to the newly elected members of the Illinois legislature, to whom he made his first speech at the Progressive conference, which opened informally and will continue over Wednesday.Besides pleading with the Progressives to stand alone in their fight the former president criticized the New York court of appeals, designating its position on the bakeshop cases as "preposterous.""I am very glad to have the chance to come out here and say again that we are in the fight to the end and that it is idle folly for the Republicans to waste time in thinking of any attempt to lure us back into an organi-

Minister of War and Chief of Staff Suddenly Resign.

Negotiations for Temporary Loan of Fifty Million Dollars at Vienna Also Aids in Producing Disquieting Effect. Austrian War Party Seems to Be Inflamed Against Both Russia and France.

Vienna, Dec. 10.—Important changes have taken place in the Austro-Hungarian war department. General Auffenberg, the minister of war, has resigned. General Krobatin, under secretary in the war office, has been appointed as his successor. General Scheau, chief of the general staff, who recently paid a significant visit to Berlin and conferred with Count von Moltke, chief of the general staff of the German army, has also resigned. He has been succeeded by General von Hoetzendorf, who held the same post several years ago.

London, Dec. 10.—Sudden resignation of the Austro-Hungarian minister of war, General Auffenberg, and the chief of general staff, General Scheau, the reported concentration of the entire Austrian fleet at Pola, its chief naval station, and Austria's negotiations for a temporary loan of $50,000,000, were chief developments in the Balkan war situation.

No explanation is yet forthcoming of the Austrian war department changes and, coming at such a time as the present, it cannot be doubted that it will have a wide political significance.

It had been expected that in event of war General von Hoetzendorf would be appointed chief of staff and his appointment now to succeed General Scheau, coupled with the news of the renewal of the dreadnought and that Austria-Hungary has negotiated temporary loans of $50,000,000, cannot but have a disquieting effect on the situation.

It is supposed that Austria wishes possibly to exert a strong influence over the coming conference proceedings in London and especially to prevent the entry of Turkey into the Balkan federation. The Austrian war party is known to be inflamed against Russia in the belief that the defiant Russian attitude is due to the Franco-Russian alliance.

Some of the Austrian newspapers, representing the war party, are urging that, unless Russia ceases mobilizing, the powers comprising the triple alliance should fall upon France and crush her before Russia is able to intervene.

However the crisis may end, the war fever is having a disastrous effect on Austro-Hungarian trade. A complete financial stagnation prevailed throughout Galicia, where the various banks recently have paid out more than $40,000,000 to nervous depositors without stemming the run.

CHRISTIAN ATROCITIES BAD

Most Inhuman Massacres in History Reported in Saloniki.

London, Dec. 10.—Detailed accounts have been wired to their respective governments by the German, French, English and Italian consuls of inhuman massacres of unarmed Moslems by the Balkan Christian soldiers in the environs of Saloniki, says the Vienna correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, who describes the horrors as the most appalling of any known in history. The massacres, he avers, were accompanied by indescribable tortures and indignities.

Armistice Is Disregarded.

Cettinje, Dec. 10.—Owing to the refusal of the governor of Scutari to recognize the armistice the Montenegrins also have decided to disregard it. As a consequence hostilities were resumed at Tarabosch, where the Turks were repulsed with losses.

DIES IN HUSBAND'S ARMS

Bodies of Couple Drowned While Skating Found.

Hudson, Wis., Dec. 10.—The bodies of A. L. Tilseth and wife, who left here on skates for their home in Lakeland, Minn., were found in the channel of the St. Croix river. When the searching party lifted them to the ice with grappling hooks a pathetic sight met their eyes. Mr. Tilseth held the body of his wife in close embrace. Evidently realizing that death was near for both of them he determined that she should die in his arms.

A strand of the woman's hair frozen to the ice kept the bodies from becoming lost.

Forgetful.

NO NOBEL PRIZE IN 1912

Norwegian Parliament Cannot Find Any Person Worthy of Award.

Christiania, Dec. 10.—The Nobel peace prize will not be awarded this year. This is the first time since the establishment of the Nobel foundation, the first award of which was made in 1901, that the committee of the Norwegian parliament has found no person worthy of the award. It has been recommended that the prize, approximately $40,000, shall be retained for the benefit of the foundation fund.

TRAIN ROBBERS GET

Slug Express Messenger and Make Their Escape.

Bakersfield, Cal., Dec. 10.—Twenty thousand dollars in gold was the haul of two robbers who held up the express car of the Sunset Western train, bound from Bakersfield for Taft, Cal. The money was consigned to the First National bank of Taft by the First National bank of Bakersfield. It was not placed in the express safe.

When the train arrived at Taft railroad men were forced to break down the door of the express car. In a corner covered with mail sacks was A. W. Hamby, the express messenger, who was just regaining consciousness. Hamby was injured about the head, but physicians who examined him declared that he was apparently not seriously hurt.

Hamby could give but few details of the robbery. He said two men entered the car just as the train was leaving Maricopa. He did not know whether they were masked and was unable to tell how he was rendered unconscious.

He said he was just recovering consciousness as the train entered Taft, about half an hour after the robbery. He appeared still to be suffering from the effects of the blow and was incoherent. He could give no description of the robbers.

North Dakota Bank Robber Gets Stiff Sentence.

Crosby, N. D., Dec. 10.—Charles Lenzen was sentenced to twenty years in the North Dakota penitentiary for participating in the robbery three weeks ago of the State bank of Noonan. He stood trial and was convicted of highway robbery in the first degree.

His companion, George Donahue, pleaded guilty to the charge and as a result received a sentence twelve and one-half years less than that given Lenzen.

Lenzen and Donahue walked into the bank about 7:30 o'clock in the evening while the cashier and clerks were about to close up, they having been working late. On the counter was piled $1,410 and this the men took while they kept the cashier and his assistants covered with revolvers. Their flight was ended nine hours afterwards on a Soo train near Portal. The money was recovered.

Five Witnesses Testify in Case at St. Paul.

St. Paul, Dec. 10.—Five witnesses were examined in the hearing of the government's suit against the International Harvester company, charged with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The hearing has been continued from St. Louis, where evidence was taken last week. The hearing will adjourn Thursday or Friday. Thirty-five witnesses, all implement dealers and salesmen, are to be examined.

Evidence was aimed to show for the government what control over the sale of harvesters and farm implements the International Harvester company has in the Northwest. The predominance of the company in binding twine sales also was featured.

JOHN SHARP WILLIAMS' QUIP.

Only Three Republican Senators Will Be in the Senate After March 4 Who Served in That Body When the Democrats Were in Control—Good Roads May Be Assured This Year.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Dec. 10.—[Special.]—It is a good thing that a generous government allows senators and representatives the privilege of franking their letters on official business. Were this not the case every Democratic senator and representative would go broke in paying postage on replies to requests for office.

Since the victory last November the mails of all these men who are supposed to have any influence have been flooded with requests for office. Many Democrats are beginning to believe that victory is worse than defeat.

John Sharp Williams claims that a mistake has been made in the last census, which credited Mississippi with about 3,000,000 population. He says that about double that number have written to him from his state asking him to support them for office under the new administration.

Reason For It.

There is reason. The records of congress show how long it has been since the Democrats had pie to distribute. Only three Republican senators will be in the senate after March 4 who served in that body when the Democrats were in control. They are Gallinger, Lodge and Perkins. Clark of Wyoming was there for about a month. Only four Republicans, Payne of New York, Barthold of Missouri, Cooper of Wisconsin and Gillett of Massachusetts, served in the house when the Democrats controlled that body who will be members after March 4.

Has No Candidates.

Congressman Fitzgerald of New York, although holding the important position of chairman of the committee on appropriations, says that he has no candidate for a cabinet position under Governor Wilson. However, he has several candidates in his district for government positions.

Good Roads This Year.

Congressman Shackelford of Missouri, who was author of the house proposition for expenditure of federal money on rural postal roads, declares that it will carry in the postoffice bill this year. They called Shackelford the "dirt road statesman" after he put forward his measure.

"That didn't hurt me a bit at home," remarked the Missourian.

"Nor me, either," remarked Cullop of Indiana, "and I talked it everywhere I went in my district."

Impressed on His Memory.

Henry H. Ward is a graduate of the Naval academy and did very efficient service during the Spanish war. "I went to one of the preparatory schools," said Ward, "when I was getting ready for my entrance examination, and that man did put facts and necessary knowledge in my head."

"Mr. Ward," he said one day, "do you know where Kenesaw mountain is?" "Well, I had never heard of Kenesaw mountain. A member of the Landis family had been named for it, but he hadn't fined the Standard Oil company $20,000,000 at that time."

"Kenesaw mountain," said the professor, "is in the northern part of Louisiana. A very fierce battle was fought there during the civil war. That information may be very useful to you in a day or two, Mr. Ward, so don't forget it." And I have never forgotten it," concluded Ward.

And yet the entire Landis family knows that Kenesaw mountain is in the northern part of Georgia.

Gardner a Target.

Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts was once one of Roosevelt's devoted friends. But that is not the case now. Gardner could not stand Roosevelt's late theories and became a Taft adherent. "I was the target for the bull moosers in Massachusetts," said Gardner. "I was the particular man they wanted to defeat. They went at me viciously, but by good luck and the indulgence of the people of my district I was able to defeat the bull moose and the Democrat also."

Not Much Economy Talk.

There are not many boasts about economy in government expenditures this year. The appropriations of the last session about equalled the amounts appropriated in the corresponding session, when the Republicans were in control. There was a difference of about $6,000,000.

The Democrats are now facing a proposition which will mean larger appropriations than the Republicans made in their last session. This is owing to a very large river and harbor bill and a deficit for pensions of something like $20,000,000.

The Sherwood pension bill, which was figured to cost not more than $20,000,000, will cost about $50,000,000 every year. There is also the possibility of a public building bill, which will further increase expenditures.

Necessary Limitations.

Physician—I would suggest a diet. Patient—Well, it will have to be something that agrees with the cook.

JOHN D. ARCHBOLD.

Indictments Against Oil Magnate Will Hold Over.

ARCHBOLD BILLS TO STAND

Wickersham Decides Not to Order Their Dismissal.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Attorney General Wickersham, it is understood here, will not order the dismissal of the indictments returned at Dallas, Tex., last August against John D. Archbold, president of the Standard Oil company, and others for the alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, but will authorize a further grand jury inquiry in an effort to secure sufficient evidence to sustain the indictments.

Meanwhile it is not known whether warrants for arrest under these indictments will be served on Mr. Archbold, H. C. Folger, Jr., and W. C. Teague of the Standard Oil.

FRAGMENTS SPREAD

Officers and Men Escape Injury When Cannon Bursts.

New York, Dec. 10.—While the explosion of small guns have taken scores of lives, when the big gun of 14-inch caliber and of fifty tons weight, the largest and newest type built by the United States government at a cost of $130,000, exploded at the Sandy Hook proving grounds it did not cause so much as a scratch to the men around it.

The two-ton breech block was blown a quarter of a mile, the muzzle was hurled still further away and fragments spread in every direction, but Ordnance Officer Michael Brennan, who was standing on the temporary disappearing carriage, was not struck, although the structure itself was wrecked. Brennan was thrown many yards but sustained hardly a bruise.

The other officers and men in charge of the firing were behind a bombproof wall which protected them from injury.

The big gun, which hurled a projectile weighing 1,650 pounds at a range of 12,000 yards, was successfully fired several times in tests last month and was believed to be in perfect condition. A charge of 340 pounds of smokeless powder is used.

DUKE AFTER THE CONSUMER

Witness Testifies He Said Retailer Should Raise Prices.

New York, Dec. 10.—"The consumer is the man I am after." These words were attributed to James B. Duke, the tobacco magnate, by Albert H. Hillman, a tobacco jobber, who was a witness in the $300,000 damage suit brought by John E. Locker of Brooklyn against the American Tobacco company, which is being tried in the United States court here.

Hillman described a discussion regarding tobacco prices he said he had with Duke about the time of the organization of the Metropolitan Tobacco company. He said he protested that jobbers could not stand an advance in prices and Duke replied:

"Raise your price to the retailer. Let the retailer raise his price to the consumer. The consumer is the man I am after. If the retailers won't raise prices we will establish retail stores of our own."

Two Rescued and Nine Alaskans Believed to Have Perished.

Cordova, Alaska, Dec. 10.—Nine men are believed to have been killed when a snowslide on Copper mountain carried away two buildings of the Great Northern Development company of New York. Eleven men were buried under the avalanche and only two have been removed alive.

The bodies of John Hart, James McGavock and Frank Wahls have been recovered.

COLONEL FAVORS

FRAUDS IN CEMENT CHARGED

Officers of Company Incorporated in South Dakota Indicted.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—Four former officers of the Empire Portland Cement company, with offices in Chicago and Cincinnati, have been indicted by the federal grand jury here on charges of using the mails to defraud. Cement dealers throughout the country have lost sums aggregating $120,000, according to the charges.

The defendants named are Arthur G. Marshall of New York, Albert S. Marshall of Chicago, Harry W. Williams of Sheboygan, Wis., Albert T. Kirk of Shell City, Mo.

The Empire Portland Cement company was incorporated in South Dakota in 1910 with an authorized capital of $2,500,000. The indictment charges that the defendants, professed to have large plants at Portsmouth, O., and Menominee, Mich., and sold stock to cement dealers with an agreement that cement of equal value would be given as a bonus with purchases of preferred stock. No cement was delivered on these contracts, it is charged.

Report of Economy and Efficiency Commission Sent to Congress.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Radical changes in patent office procedure were recommended to congress in a special report by the economy and efficiency commission, transmitted by President Taft. The principal recommendations were:

Limitation upon the life of a patent to nineteen years from date of application, exclusive of two years during which it may be in litigation; an increase from $15 to $20 for the filing fee; change in procedure to permit an inventor to appeal from the augmented board of examiners-in-chief directly to the court of appeals of the District of Columbia. Instead of through the commissioners of patents, and increases in salaries and force amounting to $236,000 a year.

Roosevelt Opposes Dickering With Old Party.

SPEAKS BEFORE LAWMAKERS

Former President Talks to Newly Elected Members of the Illinois Legislature at Chicago and Urges Them to Fight for Embodiment of Progressive Party Platform Principles in Laws of Illinois.

Chicago, Dec. 10.—"I hope that without trafficking or dickering with the old parties you will fight to have our platform principles embodied in the laws of Illinois," was the appeal Colonel Roosevelt made to the newly elected members of the Illinois legislature, to whom he made his first speech at the Progressive conference, which opened informally and will continue over Wednesday.

Besides pleading with the Progressives to stand alone in their fight the former president criticized the New York court of appeals, designating its position on the bakeshop cases as "preposterous."

"I am very glad to have the chance to come out here and say again that we are in the fight to the end and that it is idle folly for the Republicans to waste time in thinking of any attempt to lure us back into an organization that they have made of such a character that no honest man can be in it," Colonel Roosevelt said.

"Progressive members of the legislatures and of congress have a task of peculiar importance. They should make good, as far as possible, our platform pledges. We owe it to ourselves to see that our platform pledges are kept."

Wants Bills Introduced.

"We haven't control of any legislature or congress. I want legislative committees appointed to have ready to introduce on the first day of the sessions bills advocated in our platform."

"Our opponents now are making loud professions of lip loyalty to Progressive principles, so make them show up or back up. They say that most of our measures are unconstitutional. Nothing would please the old reactionaries better than to fall back on the dear old Constitution. We are the heirs of the Republicanism of Abraham Lincoln and the Republicans who fought in the Civil war. Lincoln's opponents also said he was trying to pull down the Constitution."

"They were all 'golden circle' members," someone shouted.

"Yes," the colonel responded, "the Knights of the Golden Circle were profound admirers of the Constitution. The Constitution should be an instrument for securing justice and not a barrier between the people and justice."

He discussed the workmen's compensation and eight-hour laws. It was in this connection that he criticized action of the New York court of appeals in overruling in effect the United States supreme court.

CULM BANK WORTH $35,000

Mining Expert Fixes Price on Dump Sold for $4,500.

Washington, Dec. 10.—James H. Rittenhouse of Scranton, Pa., an expert mining engineer who surveyed the Katydid culm bank at Scranton under direction of Wrisley Brown of the department of justice, testified in the impeachment trial of Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court that the Erie railroad could have secured $35,000 for the coal out of the refuse, instead of the $4,500 for which they agreed to give an option to E. J. Williams, the business associate of Judge Archbald.

The testimony of the mining engineer was introduced by the house managers in the effort to show that through Judge Archbald's influence E. J. Williams had procured the option at $4,500 for the Erie's share of the dump, when the real value of the property to the railroad was much greater.

BILL CARRIES $34,900,583

First of Great Appropriation Measures Passed by House.

Washington, Dec. 10.—Carrying appropriations aggregating $34,900,583 for the operation of three great departments of the government during the next fiscal year the annual legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was passed by the house.

Just before the vote was taken Representative Gillette of Massachusetts made an unsuccessful effort to have inserted an appropriation of $54,500 for the maintenance of the commerce court. His motion was voted down—83 to 33. Provision for the commerce court up to March 4, 1913, was made at the last session.

With rural routes, parcels post, daily delivery of mail, electric lights and electric motors, telephone, new school houses, big crops, iron royalties, etc., the farmers of Crow Wing county are every bit as advanced as their city brethren. It tends to show the prosperous condition of Crow Wing county and the trade area of which Brainerd is the natural center.

A Brotherly Act.

Admiral Lord Charles Beresford commanded a naval brigade in the Sudan
when the British forces were there.
One day when the Arabs were making a terrific onrush the admiral's life was saved by a mule which fell dead upon him. When the square had been reformed and the Arabs were repulsed Lord Charles was rescued. He looked at the mule for a moment and then remarked gratefully, "Now, that poor beast did what I should call a brotherly act."

Youthful Forbearance.

Because he had been a naughty little boy—a very naughty little boy—he was sent to bed without any pudding.
But in the evening, when his brothers and sisters all were fast asleep, he crept downstairs, a tearful little white robed figure, and, going into the library, said to his mother:
"Mummy, you told me never to go to sleep till I'd made peace with my enemies. So I've come down to forgive you and daddy for being so rude to me at dinner tonight."

COURTESY.

Courtesy lives by a multitude of little sacrifices, not by sacrifices of sufficient importance to impose any burdensome sense of obligation.—

O. E. S. Election

The annual meeting of Alpha Chapter No. 23, O. E. S., was held on Monday evening, December 9th, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

W. P.—Rev. W. J. Lowrie.
A. M.—Mrs. Minnie Seeger.
Sec'y.—Mrs. Leona B. Treglawny.
Treasurer—Mrs. May L. Swartz.

The above officers were duly installed by Mrs. Emma E. Forsythe, and Mrs. Mary E. McFadden as marshall, after which a light lunch-
oon was served by the ladies of the Star.

Bernhardt's Odd Mistake.

Sarah Bernhardt was once the unconscious victim of an amusing mistake. When returning from one of her visits to England she chanced to encounter King George of Greece, who was waiting for an outgoing train, at the Gare du Nord, in Paris. The great actress was overwhelmed. "Sire," she said to the king, "you honor me. I cannot sufficiently thank you for your courtesy in coming here to meet me."
His majesty gracefully accepted the situation.

Igneous Rocks.

Igneous is derived from the Latin word ignis, meaning fire, and igneous rocks are those which geologists say were produced through the action of heat. Igneous rocks are divided into two great groups, volcanic and plutonic.
The volcanic, as the name implies,
are those brought to the surface by volcanic action, while the plutonic are those which have solidified below the surface of the earth and have been exposed by the wearing away of the strata above them.

A Born Salesman.

"You are wasting your time writing poetry."
"But I sell my poetry," protested the other.
"And that convinces me that you can sell anything. Such being the case, why not take up high class bonds or steel bridges or something big?"—Kansas City Journal.

Just Like Her Money.

"She carries her age well."
"Yes. She carries her age the same way she carries her money."
"How is that?"
"Carefully concealed."—Birmingham Age Herald.

year. But thanks to good physici-

O'BRIEN MERCANTILE CO.
221-223 South Broadway

For Saturday, December the 14th

Brainerd is a bargain center on that date. Sixty-two merchants of the city have united to offer attractive bargains to appeal to the people of Brainerd and the surrounding counties to come to Brainerd Saturday, December 14th. Visit the stores. Every advertiser bids you welcome.

It shows progressiveness, push and enterprise on the part of the merchants of Brainerd who have united to offer considerable reductions in prices on staple and other articles as an inducement to out-of-town trade to visit Brainerd on Saturday, December 14th. It is also an inducement to stay-at-home trade to spend their money in Brainerd.

Seasonable merchandise of good quality is offered the people of every town and hamlet and community of this and neighboring counties. Make it a point to visit Brainerd December 14th.

Many of these merchants have adopted plans to keep tab on the trade which an ad in these columns will bring them. The Dispatch as well as these merchants is interested in the results. If successful, it will show merchants the value of an ad when advantageously placed in either Daily or Weekly Dispatch.

It did not take so very long to interest the merchants of Brainerd in this plan of team work in merchandising, of trying to center trade in Brainerd on December 14th. It did not take long to convince any one of them about the feasibility of the plan.

And you, Mr. Householder or your better half, Mrs. Housewife, when you scan these bargains, remember they are bona-fide, genuine opportunities to save money and in these days a penny saved means a penny earned.

Back of each special offered you is the reputation and the goodwill of a merchant and in all cases these merchants have been doing business for years in Brainerd and their word means something. And when you visit a store, remember the merchant has other attractive wares besides the item he advertised.

Each of the 62 whose ads are displayed on this page cordially invite you to visit him. It will be a pleasure for him to show you his goods and wares.

And REMEMBER, the money saved will leave you a handsome profit over and above what your railway fare may have cost you.

Every woman likes to read advertisements which offer genuine bargains and here is a perfect garden of them, a field full of opportunity.

REAP THE HARVEST. Set your mind on being in Brainerd bright and early Saturday, December 14th and then enjoy yourself to your heart's content by a day spent in shopping and what rarer enjoyment exists for a woman than to flit from store to store. Make the acquaintance of Brainerd stores.

25,000 MILES FOR GIANT PEACH

Uncle Sam Sends Agricultural Explorer on Odd Trip.

WEIGHS AT LEAST A POUND.

Frank N. Meyer on His Way to Shantung to Obtain the Juicy Chinese Wonder, Which Is to Be Added to the Product of These United States—To Spend Three Years in the Wilds.

Twenty-five thousand miles looking for a peach—that is the stupendous journey which has been undertaken by Frank N. Meyer, explorer and expert for the United States department of agriculture. The peach is worthy of the effort, according to stories that have crept into coast areas of Manchuria and eastern China.

The peach is described by travelers who have seen and tasted it as the biggest and most marvelous combination of external beauty and internal lusciousness. Three pounds is the apocryphal limit ascribed to the fruit by irresponsible natives of the wilds of west China.

Mr. Meyer in a report to the department promises a peach that will weigh at least a pound and is as large as a muskmelon. This wonderful peach grows in the province of Shantung. It is known to the Chinese as the Felt Ching or Felt Tau.

To Bring Out First Specimens. No specimens have ever been brought to the coast of China. Mr. Meyer did bring back with him from a previous journey several scions of the Felt Ching peach and a number of seeds. The scions failed to produce when grafted upon American grown seedling stocks. They had failed to withstand transportation.

The department experimenters took a chance with the seeds and have grown several trees at the experimental station at Fayetteville, N. C. None of them has yet fruited, and it is the belief of the experts that nothing extraordinary will be developed from the seedlings.

Like other fruits, the seedling peach develops desirable fruitings only in rare instances. According to Luther Burbank, hardly more than one desirable seedling out of a planting of 100,000 seeds is to be expected.

The 25,000 mile journey of Mr. Meyer began when he went to London for a conference with notable European agriculturists before taking the final drive into the orient. It is not only the Felt Ching peach which is sounding the call of the east for the American explorer. Under the direction of the bureau of plant industry Mr. Meyer is inaugurating a three years' sojourn in the wilds of southeastern Russia and western China for the purpose of studying suitable crops of all sorts for growth and development in those sections of the United States where the limit of frostless days is not more than eighty-five or ninety per annum.

Trees For Windbreaks.

Not only branch of the activities of the department of agriculture, but all branches of its work, will be observed by Mr. Meyer. Fruits, vegetables, cereals and also trees especially suited for the development of windbreaks in the wind swept areas of the great plains regions will be observed by him.

At the last session of congress an appropriation of $50,000 was made for the establishment at Mandan, N. D., of a governmental experiment station for just this particular class of vegetation. Quick growing crops of all sorts will be observed, and shade trees and ornamental plants which can be transported and transplanted to the United States will be examined.

Mr. Meyer is accompanied by no American assistant. He will upon his arrival in southeastern Russia organize his own caravan. He carries with him materials for the packing and preservation of the scions of trees and for the carrying home of roots and seeds of the plant organisms.

Indian Another Caruso. Carlisle Kawabagam, a full blooded American Chippewa Indian and son and heir of the late chief of the tribe, is hailed by the critics of Berlin and Vienna as the latest star on the operatic horizon. Kawabagam, who is a graduate of the Carlisle Indian school and the Yale school of medicine, has been christened the "red Caruso."

FOREIGN TRADE SOARS.

Four Billion Mark Near For United States Imports and Exports.

Attainment of a $4,000,000,000 foreign trade by the United States in 1912 will be one of the most noteworthy facts for historians to record of the American nation at the beginning of the new year. In announcing the totals of the export and import trade of the country for ten months ended with October the bureau of domestic and foreign commerce stated that the foreign commerce would reach this enormous total by the end of December. Its highest former record was $3,626,000,000, in 1911. It crossed the $3,000,000,000 line for the first time in 1906 and passed $2,000,000,000 in 1899.

Imports in the ten months amounted to $1,511,000,000 and exports to $1,871,000,000, making it apparent that the imports of the full year will approximate $1,800,000,000 and the exports $2,300,000,000, totaling $4,100,000,000.

Imports have practically doubled in value since 1901, and exports have practically doubled since 1904. The exports of domestic products, which had never touched the $2,000,000,000 mark until 1911, will in 1912 approximate $2,250,000,000, while the exports of foreign merchandise during the year will probably fall slightly below the high record of $37,250,000,000 in 1910.

The Turkish Foz.

The Turk's devotion to the foz is clearly explained by Duckett Ferriman: "The prejudice against the bat rests on a religious basis. If the ramaz (form of prayer) is rightly performed the forehead must touch the ground. The brim of a hat or the peak of a cap would prevent this."—London Globe.

A Beautiful Sight.

"There is no such thing as true friendship."

"Oh, yes, there is. Did you never remark the implicit trust and confidence existing between two girls who have known each other for about a week?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Beggars' Day in Costa Rica.

In Costa Rica the beggars are privileged characters on Tuesday—that is, they are allowed that day of the week in which to beg from shop to shop. It is the custom for business houses to prepare for the weekly visit of the mendicants and to hand over to them small coins or articles of little value. In some instances where merchandise is given away the beggars peddle it about the poorer quarters and so earn a few cents apiece.—Argonaut.

Simple Locomotion.

"I was just thinking," said one weary tramp to another, with a long, long journey in front of them, "about bad roads and the wonders of science. This earth is spinning round faster'n a railway train behind time."

"Well, we ain't fell off yet."

"No, but think o' what a convenience it would be if we could have some place to grab on to while the territory slid under our feet until the place we wanted to go to came along!"

BOWELS BAD, LIVER TORPID? CASCARETS

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour, Get a 10 Cent
Box of Cascarets—Take
One Tonight

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back-ache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

Uncle Sam Sends Agricultural Explorer on Odd Trip.

WEIGHS AT LEAST A POUND.

Frank N. Meyer on His Way to Shantung to Obtain the Juicy Chinese Wonder, Which is to Be Added to the Product of These United States—To Spend Three Years in the Wilds.

Twenty-five thousand miles looking for a peach—that is the stupendous journey which has been undertaken by Frank N. Meyer, explorer and expert for the United States department of agriculture. The peach is worthy of the effort, according to stories that have crept into coast areas of Manchuria and eastern China.

The peach is described by travelers who have seen and tasted it as the biggest and most marvelous combination of external beauty and internal lushness. Three pounds is the apocryphal limit ascribed to the fruit by irresponsible natives of the wilds of west China.

Mr. Meyer in a report to the department promises a peach that will weigh at least a pound and is as large as a muskmelon. This wonderful peach grows in the province of Shantung. It is known to the Chinese as the Felt Ching or Felt Tau.

To Bring Out First Specimens. No specimens have ever been brought to the coast of China. Mr. Meyer did bring back with him from a previous journey several specimens of the Felt Ching peach and a number of seeds. The seeds failed to produce when grafted upon American grown seedling stocks. They had failed to withstand transportation.

The department experimenters took a chance with the seeds and have grown several trees at the experimental station at Fayetteville, N. C. None of them has yet fruited, and it is the belief of the experts that nothing extraordinary will be developed from the seedlings.

Like other fruits, the seedling peach develops desirable fruitings only in rare instances. According to Luther Burbank, hardly more than one desirable seedling out of a planting of 100,000 seeds is to be expected.

The 25,000 mile journey of Mr. Meyer began when he went to London for a conference with notable European agriculturists before taking the final drive into the orient. It is not only the Felt Ching peach which is sounding the call of the east for the American explorer. Under the direction of the bureau of plant industry Mr. Meyer is inaugurating a three years' sojourn in the wilds of southeastern Russia and western China for the purpose of studying suitable crops of all sorts for growth and development in those sections of the United States where the limit of frostless days is not more than eighty-five or ninety per annum.

Trees For Windbreaks. Not one branch of the activities of the department of agriculture, but all branches of its work, will be observed by Mr. Meyer. Fruits, vegetables, cereals and also trees especially suited for the development of windbreaks in the wind swept areas of the great plains regions will be observed by him. At the last session of congress an appropriation of $50,000 was made for the establishment at Mandan, N. D., of a governmental experiment station for just this particular class of vegetation. Quick growing crops of all sorts will be observed, and shade trees and ornamental plants which can be transported and transplanted to the United States will be examined.

Mr. Meyer is accompanied by no American assistant. He will upon his arrival in southeastern Russia organize his own caravan. He carries with him materials for the packing and preservation of the seeds of trees and for the carrying home of roots and seeds of the plant organisms.

Indian Another Caruso. Carlisle Kawabagam, a full blooded American Chippewa Indian and son and heir of the late chief of the tribe, is hailed by the critics of Berlin and Vienna as the latest star on the operatic horizon. Kawabagam, who is a graduate of the Carlisle Indian school and the Yale school of medicine, has been christened the "red Caruso."

FOREIGN TRADE SOARS.

Attainment of a $4,000,000,000 foreign trade by the United States in 1912 will be one of the most noteworthy facts for historians to record of the American nation at the beginning of the new year. In announcing the totals of the export and import trade of the country for ten months ended with October the bureau of domestic and foreign commerce stated that the foreign commerce would reach this enormous total by the end of December. Its highest former record was $3,626,000,000, in 1911. It crossed the $3,000,000,000 line for the first time in 1906 and passed $2,000,000,000 in 1899.

Imports in the ten months amounted to $1,511,000,000 and exports to $1,871,000,000, making it apparent that the imports of the full year will approximate $1,800,000,000 and the exports $2,200,000,000, totaling $4,000,000,000.

Imports have practically doubled in value since 1901, and exports have practically doubled since 1904. The exports of domestic products, which had never touched the $2,000,000,000 mark until 1911, will in 1912 approximate $2,250,000,000, while the exports of foreign merchandise during the year will probably fall slightly below the high record of $37,250,000,000 in 1910.

The Turkish Fez.

The Turk's devotion to the fez is clearly explained by Duckett Ferriman: "The prejudice against the hat rests on a religious basis. If the ramaz (form of prayer) is rightly performed the forehead must touch the ground. The brim of a hat or the peak of a cap would prevent this."—London Globe.

A Beautiful Sight.

"There is no such thing as true friendship." "Oh, yes, there is. Did you never remark the implicit trust and confidence existing between two girls who have known each other for about a week?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Beggars' Day in Costa Rica.

In Costa Rica the beggars are privileged characters on Tuesday—that is, they are allowed that day of the week in which to beg from shop to shop. It is the custom for business houses to prepare for the weekly visit of the mendicants and to hand over to them small coins or articles of little value. In some instances where merchandise is given away the beggars peddle it about the poorer quarters and so earn a few cents apiece.—Argonaut.

Simple Locomotion.

"I was just thinking," said one weary tramp to another, with a long, long journey in front of them, "about bad roads and the wonders of science. This earth is spinning round faster'n a railway train behind time." "Well, we ain't fell off yet." "No, but think o' what a convenience it would be if we could have some place to grab on to while the territory slid under our feet until the place we wanted to go to came along!"

BOWELS BAD, LIVER TORPID? CASCARETS

If Constipated, Bilious, Headachy, Stomach Sour, Get a 10 Cent Box of Cascarets—Take One Tonight

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have back-ache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets work while you sleep; cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—do good—never gripe or sicken.

TO ISSUE PANAMA STAMPS.

Designs of Those in Commemoration of San Francisco Exposition.

Announcement has been made by the postmaster general at Washington concerning a special series of stamps to be known as the Panama-Pacific commemorative stamps.

These stamps measure about 3/4 by 1-1/16 inches, the long dimension being horizontal. At the top appear the words "U. S. POSTAGE" and "San Francisco, 1915." In the left hand border is a branch of laurel and in the right hand border a palm branch. A numeral expressing the denomination is shown within a circle in each lower corner, with the word "cents" between the two circles.

The one cent stamp is green, and in the center appears within a circle a bust of Balboa, discoverer of the Pacific ocean, looking to the left and wearing a cuirass and a helmet with a plume. On either side of the background are palm trees, with the ocean in the foreground. Below the portrait is the inscription "Balboa, 1513." The two cent stamp is red. It represents the Gatun locks of the Panama canal, with a merchant steamer emerging from one lock and a warship in the other. The mountains of the Isthmus appear in the distance and palm trees on the right hand side of the locks. Beneath the picture are the words "Gatun Locks."

The ten cent stamp is dark yellow. The subject is "Discovery of San Francisco Bay," from a painting which represents the discovering party looking out upon the distant bay.

10,000 WOMEN TO MARCH.

Suffragists From Many States Will Parade at Inauguration.

For the first time in the history of the United States marching women will form a large section of the inaugural parade next March. Woodrow Wilson will be accompanied by an amazonian bodyguard of suffragettes.

The Suffrage Association of the District of Columbia has voted to request the inaugural committee to give them a place in the parade, and the women have received private assurances that their request will be granted. Ten thousand women, they estimate, will answer the appeal.

"We anticipate that our section of the parade will arouse more interest than any other," said Miss Emma Gillette, the recording secretary, "for it will have the advantage of complete novelty as an inaugural feature. We will not march as Democrats, but as women voters and women who desire to become voters. Pennsylvania is expected to send a large contingent. And you may depend upon it that the suffrage section will be a creditable part of the parade."

Not of Much Account.

The lord chief justice of England used to sing in the choir of a parish church. A woman once asked the verger to point out Sir Richard Webster as he then was. The verger replied, "Well, ma'am, that's the vicar and them's the curates and I'm the verger, but as for the choir, as long as they does their dooty we don't inquire into their antecedents!"

THE SMILE THAT COUNTS

It is easy enough to be pleasant When life flows by like a song, But the man worth while is the one who will smile When everything goes wrong, For the test of the heart is trouble, And it always comes with the years, And the smile that is worth the praises of earth Is the smile that shines through tears. —H. P. Chandler.

FINE OLD BORROWERS.

Leigh Hunt Was a Champion, and Dr. Johnson Leveled on Books.

In a book of essays, "Americans and Others," Agnes Repplier collects some notable instances of a certain condescension in borrowers. Leigh Hunt and William Godwin had the trait developed to magnificent proportions.

"It would be interesting to calculate the amount of money which Hunt's friends and acquaintances contributed to his support in life. Shelley gave him at one time £1,400, an amount which the poet could ill spare, and when he had no more to give wrote in misery of spirit to Byron, begging a loan for his friend and promising to repay it, as he felt tolerably sure Hunt never would. Byron, generous at first, wearied after a time of his position in Hunt's commissariat (it was like pulling a man out of a river, he wrote to Moore, only to see him jump in again) and coldly withdrew. His withdrawal occasioned inconvenience and has been sharply criticised."

As for Godwin, when his daughter ran off with Shelley he refused to take Shelley's check for £1,000 if it were not made payable to a third person or "unless he could have the money without the formality of an acceptance."

Crabb Robinson introduced him one evening to a gentleman named Rough. The next day both Godwin and Rough called upon their host, each man expressing his regard for the other and each asking Robinson if he thought the other would be a likely person to lend him £50.

Dr. Johnson was more scrupulous. He "paid back £10 after a lapse of twenty years." * * * and on his deathbed begged Sir Joshua Reynolds to forgive him a trifling loan. But in the matter of borrowed books the case was altered. "Johnson cherished a dim conviction that because he read and Garrick did not the proper place for Garrick's books was on his—Johnson's—bookshelves, a point which could never be settled between the two friends and which came near wrecking their friendship."

Alaska's Two Climates.

Official reports indicate that the coast region of Alaska has much rain and snow, but an equable temperature, and that the winter at Sitka is no colder than at Washington. The snowfall at Valdez has reached sixty feet and the rainfall at Sitka 111 inches in a season. The Yukon basin, on the other hand, has a continental climate, very cold in the winter, although the summer temperature may reach 90 degrees F. in the shade. The rainfall is small. The soil is permanently frozen for several yards below the surface, but a thin surface layer thaws out every summer.—Harper's.

Matter and Force Identical.

Until recently the atom was considered the indivisible part of matter, but advances in radio-activity point to the fact that the atom is a complex system, consisting of a positively charged nucleus around which are grouped numerous negatively charged particles of infinitesimal dimensions, called electrons. A great deal has yet to be learned about the electron. Though regarded now as the unit of the material universe, it is really nothing but electricity, though it possesses the properties of matter—mass, momentum, kinetic energy and probably weight.—Christian Herald.

An Eccentric Chemist.

The Cavendish House estate, Clapham, takes its name from the home of the eccentric chemist, the Hon. Henry Cavendish, whose famous experiment for the determination of the earth's density, made in his Clapham garden, gained him the title of "the man who weighed the earth." Cavendish, who left over a million sterling on his death, in 1810, lived all alone at Cavendish House, carrying his craze for solitude to such an extent that, as Lord Brougham tells us, he refused to let himself be seen even by his servants and "used to order his dinner daily by a note left on the hall table, whence the housekeeper might take it."—London Mail.

Meant Nothing Personal.

"When you try to help other people such puzzling things happen," said a pretty young charities investigator to a newspaper man, and from her subsequent remarks he gathered that what did happen was this: The well meaning girl was trying to find out why the poor man was idle. "Can't you find work?" she ventured sympathetically. "Sure, miss, any day I want it." "Well, why aren't you working today, then, instead of sitting in the house doing nothing?" "I didn't feel good today. You know how it is, lady, when you've been drunk a week." And the young woman is still wondering what he could have meant by that.—New York Tribune.

The Corinthian Canal.

The four centuries between the Panama canal's first conception and its completion are by no means a record in the annals of canal construction. The completion in 1893 of the canal across the isthmus of Corinth was the finish of a scheme for which the first survey was made in the year 600 B. C., when Periander employed Egyptian engineers to carry out the work. Nero actually commenced work along the site of the present canal, but at his death it was abandoned, and the project was not revived until 1882, and this though the total length of the canal is under four miles.—London Graphic.

LIMA PLANS HYGIENE SHOW.

International Exposition to Be Held at Time of Medical Congress.

Lima, the Peruvian capital, will next summer be the scene of the sixth pan-American congress and at the same time of the fifth Latin-American medical congress.

Anxious to prove Peru's right to a place in the vanguard of Latin-American progress, the government and leading citizens are already co-operating to insure a success for both congresses, the most important step taken toward this end being the organization of an international exposition of hygiene to be held here in connection with the medical congress.

This exposition will last from July 31 until Sept. 30, and the executive committee has just issued a circular letter inviting from all parts of the world exhibits of machinery, drawings, apparatus, etc., connected with the providing of drinking water, treatment of sewage, disposal of refuse and all other matters coming within the scope of hygienic science.

In order to attract exhibits from manufacturers of and dealers in hygienic products it is pointed out by the executive committee that many South American cities are without proper systems of sanitation or have systems which are in great need of modernization. An exhibition of this kind, it is stated, will prove of especial benefit to Peru, because their cities and towns, having been built during the colonial epoch, are in urgent need of modern appliances.

Applications for space on the part of intending exhibitors can be made up to May 3.

The Home of a Genius.

Beethoven was born in a small house in Bonn. His father had inherited the vice of drinking, and often Beethoven and his younger brother were obliged to take their intoxicated father home. He was never known to utter an unkind word about the man who made his youth so unhappy, and he never failed to resent it when a third person spoke uncharitably of his father's frailty. Young Beethoven was thus taught many a severe lesson in the hard school of adversity, but his trials were not without advantage to him. They gave to his character that iron texture which upheld him under his heaviest burdens.

Pickings For the Parson.

A Dover bridegroom gave his best man an envelope. "Hand it to the parson after the ceremony," he said, "but don't do it ostentatiously."

The best man followed instructions but it seems that he performed his task too covertly, for the father of the bridegroom, after the pair had departed, believed that an omission had occurred and quietly pressed a banknote into the minister's hand.

But he also was too secretive about it, and before the party broke up the bride's brother felt called upon to draw the minister aside and thrust a ten dollar bill upon him.—Newark News.

An Awful Shock.

The deputy stage manager at the Theater Royal, Dublin, at one time was a little man named Linders, who had a strange dislike of the ladies of the ballet and treated them rather harshly. He wore a wig, but the fact was not generally known. On one occasion, however, an enraged coryphée seized him by the hair, and off came the wig, exposing a shiny expanse of cranium. He at once dashed off to complain to Mrs. Harris, the manager's wife, but the good lady could only gasp in stupefied tones: "Good gracious, Mr. Linders! Why, you are bald!" To which Linders instantly replied: "No, madam, no. My hair became loose with horror!"

Elephants as Executioners.

Some idea of what Baroda, India, was in times past may be gathered from the following: A hundred elephants were kept at the expense of the state, and criminals were executed in a most horrible manner. The poor wretch, tied hand and foot, was fastened by a long rope round the waist to the elephant's hind leg. Then the animal was made to trot through the city, and the man, at almost every step rebounding against stones and obstacles, soon became a mass of bruises and wounds and a ghastly spectacle. If he survived this his head was placed on a block and the elephant crushed it with his foot.—Exchange.

The Retort Political.

One of the first secretaries of agriculture was a man of great shrewdness and ability, which were not incompatible with a certain slow footed ease. He was known to be late at cabinet meetings, where tardiness is a serious breach of etiquette. One day when he came into a meeting a minute or two late one of the other secretaries, thinking to give a helpful rebuke, said: "Hello! Here comes the tail of the administration."

The secretary slid leisurely into his seat and then answered: "Well, the tail may come in handy some day to brush the flies off the rest of the administration."

His Literary Bent.

"Father, when I leave school I am going to follow my literary bent and write for money."

"Humph! My son, you ought to be successful. That's all you've done since you've been at school."

DEEDS, NOT WORDS.

Every one of us has it in his power to lead the world forward and to enter himself on a higher life if he will steadily refuse to be satisfied with the name of religion, if he will consecrate the days and the nights to the infinite reality—not to say, "Lord, Lord," merely, but to do the things which he says.—Edward Everett Hale.

Constipated? Go To Your Doctor It is impossible to be well, simply impossible, if the bowels are constipated. Waste products, poisonous substances, must be removed from the body at least once each day, or there will be trouble. Ask your doctor about Ayer's Pills, gently laxative, all vegetable. He knows why they act directly on the liver.

NEARLY SEVERS JUGULAR VEIN

Special to Dispatch:
Pillager, Minn., December 10—R.
E. Waite, returning home from cutting wood, carried some sticks and an ax on his shoulder and slipping in the road, he accidentally threw himself upon the upturned keen-bladed ax and nearly severed his left ear and came within a fraction of an inch of cutting the jugular vein.
Dr. R. A. Beise was called from Brainerd and had difficulty to staunch the flow of blood. Five stitches were necessary to put the ear back in place. Mr. Waite has gone to Brainerd and is staying for a time with his brother-in-law Freeman Turcotte.

A SUDDEN DEATH

Nels Westerberg Expires of Heart Disease Monday Morning at His Home in S. E. Brainerd

Nels Westerberg, aged 63, an old resident of Brainerd, died suddenly
of heart disease at his home, 1521 Norwood street. He lived alone, but took his meals with his son, Erick Westerberg. On Monday the family of his son missed him for he did not appear for his meals. Monday evening the son went to his father's house and found the door locked.
Peering in the window he saw his father lying on the floor. He entered the room and found him dead, heart disease having suddenly claimed him. On the floor lay the silent watch broken by his fall and the hands pointed to 1:40, which would make it appear Mr. Wester-berg had died early Monday morning.

The deceased was born in Sweden
October 15, 1849 and was married
there. He came to Brainerd in 1881.
One child, Erick, was born to them.
The deceased was a skillful machinist and was regularly employed at the Northern Pacific railway shops until about two years ago. Since the death of his wife at that time, he had been ailing. The last Sabbath before his death he had spent with his son and family and complained of not feeling well.

He was an earnest member of the Swedish Lutheran church and attended services regularly, finding great consolation in the church. He was a member of the local machinists union. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 from the new Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. E. Carlson officiating. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery. The many friends of the family extend sincere sympathy in their sad hour of bereavement.

Bright Scholars.

Examination "howlers" are by no means confined to schoolboys, as an "information test" of freshmen at New York university showed. The definitions of "hypothecate" as "a druggist"
and "esophagus" as "a tomb in which dead kings were placed" were worthy of lineal descendants of Mrs. Malaprop, while the statement that "Beowulf was a character in Shakespeare's 'Ivanhoe'" rivals the classic account of Aesop as "a man who wrote fables
and traded the copyright for a bottle of potash."—New York Tribune.

IN DISTRICT COURT

Case of Betzold vs Thienes is About Finished—Much Interest Manifested in Case

The suit of Philip Betzold vs Frank Thienes is being tried in the district court and attorneys engaged in the trial of the case expect it to be concluded this afternoon.

Late Monday afternoon the following order was entered: "Upon application of the defendant in this case it was ordered that the plaintiff
in this case submit himself to a physical examination by a commission appointed by the court as follows:
Dr. J. L. Camp and Dr. R. A. Beise
and that the examination be made Tuesday morning as soon as possible,
if possible at nine o'clock, or as soon
after, with the consent of both parties, the expense of said examination
to be paid by the applicant."

Dr. J. L. Camp testified this morning to the effect that in his opinion
the plaintiff's injuries were in part due to his condition of today, also that intoxicants assisted.

Postoffice Force Making Preparations to Handle Christmas Business in Satisfactory Manner

Red Cross and Christmas Stamps Must Not Be Put on the Face of Letters, but on the Back

The postoffice is requesting that the press give publicity to the ruling of the postoffice department that Christmas or Red Cross stamps must not be put on the face of the letter,
but on the back—that is if you want your letter delivered. Where the Christmas stamp is put on the face of the letter it will be returned to the writer or forwarded to the dead letter office. Some countries do not permit the Red Cross stamp to be attached to the outside of the letter,
but Uncle Sam has not gone that far, and backs up the Red Cross movement if the stamp is put on the back of the letter.

Another thing the public should be instructed in and try to remember if they wish the post cards they mail to reach the people they are addressed to.

A post card in order to be acceptable for mailing at the 1-cent rate of postage: Must in form, size and quality of paper be substantially like the government postal card. The message must be written on the left side. It can bear no attachments other than a thin sheet of paper closely adhering thereto.

Cards bearing particles of glass,
mica, sand, tinsel or other similar substances are unmailable, except when enclosed in envelopes tightly sealed.

Cards mailed under cover of sealed envelopes (transparent or otherwise) are chargeable with 2-cent
postage; if enclosed in unsealed envelopes they must bear a 2-cent
stamp if the message is written or a 1-cent stamp if entirely in print.

Don't wait, mail your packages
early, they will be safer and more sure of delivery.

Don't send a letter or package until you write your name and address on same.

Don't mail a parcel until you have it weighed so proper amount of postage is affixed.

Don't seal or wrap parcels in such a manner that they cannot be easily examined.

Don't place the address so there will be no room for postmark.
Don't let one stamp lap over another, a stamp partly covered cannot be accepted.

Arrangements have been made at the local office for additional help and extra clerks and carriers have been provided for in order to insure prompt delivery. This is the last year that patrons will be restricted to sending small packages through the mail and next Christmas the parcels post will be taken advantage of and packages weighing up to eleven pounds will then be accepted and delivered.

NEARLY SEVERS JUGULAR VEIN

Special to Dispatch:

Pillager, Minn., December 10—R. E. Waite, returning home from cutting wood, carried some sticks and an ax on his shoulder and slipping in the road, he accidentally threw himself upon the upturned keen-bladed ax and nearly severed his left ear and came within a fraction of an inch of cutting the jugular vein.

Dr. R. A. Beise was called from Brainerd and had difficulty to staunch the flow of blood. Five stitches were necessary to put the ear back in place. Mr. Waite has gone to Brainerd and is staying for a time with his brother-in-law Freeman Turcotte.

A SUDDEN DEATH

Nels Westerberg Expires of Heart Disease Monday Morning at His Home in S. E. Brainerd

Nels Westerberg, aged 63, an old resident of Brainerd, died suddenly of heart disease at his home, 1521 Norwood street. He lived alone, but took his meals with his son, Erick Westerberg. On Monday the family of his son missed him for he did not appear for his meals. Monday evening the son went to his father's house and found the door locked. Peering in the window he saw his father lying on the floor. He entered the room and found him dead, heart disease having suddenly claimed him. On the floor lay the silent watch broken by his fall and the hands pointed to 1:40, which would make it appear Mr. Westerberg had died early Monday morning.

The deceased was born in Sweden October 15, 1849 and was married there. He came to Brainerd in 1881. One child, Erick, was born to them. The deceased was a skillful machinist and was regularly employed at the Northern Pacific railway shops until about two years ago. Since the death of his wife at that time, he had been ailing. He was an earnest member of the Swedish Lutheran church and attended services regularly, finding great consolation in the church. He was a member of the local machinists union. The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence and at 2:30 from the new Swedish Lutheran church, Rev. E. Carlson officiating. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery. The many friends of the family extend sincere sympathy in their sad hour of bereavement.

Stanley Vanek of this city and Miss Marie Jensen, of Merrifield, were married at the Rogers hotel, Minneapolis, on Wednesday, December 4, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Charles Fox Davis, pastor of the First Methodist church of Brainerd.

After a short stay in the Twin Cities the happy couple have returned to Brainerd and are now making their home at flat No. 4 Walker block. Mr. Vanek is an enterprising young jeweler of the city and well known in the city and country. The bride has a large circle of friends in the city and her former home in Merrifield. Their many friends wish them much happiness and prosperity, a wish in which the Dispatch joins.

IN DISTRICT COURT

Case of Betzold vs Thienes is About Finished—Much Interest Manifested in Case

The suit of Philip Betzold vs Frank Thienes is being tried in the district court and attorneys engaged in the trial of the case expect it to be concluded this afternoon.

Late Monday afternoon the following order was entered: "Upon application of the defendant in this case it was ordered that the plaintiff in this case submit himself to a physical examination by a commission appointed by the court as follows: Dr. J. L. Camp and Dr. R. A. Beise and that the examination be made Tuesday morning as soon as possible, if possible at nine o'clock, or as soon after, with the consent of both parties, the expense of said examination to be paid by the applicant."

Dr. J. L. Camp testified this morning to the effect that in his opinion the plaintiff's injuries were in part due to his condition of today, also that intoxicants assisted.

Postoffice Force Making Preparations to Handle Christmas Business in Satisfactory Manner

Red Cross and Christmas Stamps Must Not be Put on the Face of Letters, but on the Back

The postoffice is requesting that the press give publicity to the ruling of the postoffice department that Christmas or Red Cross stamps must not be put on the face of the letter, but on the back—that is if you want your letter delivered. Where the Christmas stamp is put on the face of the letter it will be returned to the writer or forwarded to the dead letter office. Some countries do not permit the Red Cross stamp to be attached to the outside of the letter, but Uncle Sam has not gone that far, and backs up the Red Cross movement if the stamp is put on the back of the letter.

Another thing the public should be instructed in and try to remember if they wish the post cards they mail to reach the people they are addressed to.

A post card in order to be acceptable for mailing at the 1-cent rate of postage: Must in form, size and quality of paper be substantially like the government postal card. The message must be written on the left side. It can bear no attachments other than a thin sheet of paper closely adhering thereto.

Cards bearing particles of glass, mica, sand, tinsel or other similar substances are unmailable, except when enclosed in envelopes tightly sealed.

Cards mailed under cover of sealed envelopes (transparent or otherwise) are chargeable with 2-cent postage; if enclosed in unsealed envelopes they must bear a 2-cent stamp if the message is written or a 1-cent stamp if entirely in print.

Don't wait, mail your packages early, they will be safer and more sure of delivery.

Don't send a letter or package until you write your name and address on same.

Don't mail a parcel until you have it weighed so proper amount of postage is affixed.

Don't seal or wrap parcels in such a manner that they cannot be easily examined.

Don't place the address so there will be no room for postmark.

Don't let one stamp lap over another, a stamp partly covered cannot be accepted.

Arrangements have been made at the local office for additional help and extra clerks and carriers have been provided for in order to insure prompt delivery. This is the last year that patrons will be restricted to sending small packages through the mail and next Christmas the parcels post will be taken advantage of and packages weighing up to eleven pounds will then be accepted and delivered.

Nesheim-Rosenkranz

The young people were attended by the bride's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Alberts. The contracting parties are both Brainerd young people and have a host of friends who will wish them well.

NEW PENSION CHECKS

New Plan of Payment Will Not Require Receipts in all Cases and Will be Easier for Pensioners

The new system of paying all persons on the federal pension rolls direct from Washington instead of through the 18 pension agencies which will be abolished Jan. 23, is now being inaugurated by the pension bureau. Checks are being sent to 300,000 pensioners in the section heretofore comprised by the agencies at Augusta, Ga., Boston, Columbus, Detroit, Washington and San Francisco. The personnel of the agencies at Indianapolis, Knoxville, Louisville, New York, Philadelphia and Toledo which have completed their November payments, will soon be brought into Washington, the first of the agency transfers to the pension bureau.

Special efforts are being made by Commissioners of Pensions, Davenport and Dr. Thompson, chief of the finance division, to make banks and pensioners understand the new pension check system. For the first time in history, the pensioners will be paid without the formality of vouchers, the checks serving the same purpose by a requirement of indorsement by the pensioner in the presence of two witnesses. The pensioner must also show to the endorser, his certificate, the number of which must tally with the certificate number of the checks. The new system obviates the necessity of receipts from the pensioners.

A campaign for the Y. M. C. A. at Superior has resulted in raising $21,000 and the subscriptions still coming in.

Alitkin county paid $1,271 in premiums at their last county fair, the largest in the history of the agricultural society.

Carl Carlson shot at a partridge in the brush and killed the bird and his hunting partner at South Range, near Superior.

Bemidji people are informed that the M. & I. road will put a special sleeping car on at any time the business warrants it.

The mayor of St. Cloud is going to run a free employment agency during the winter hoping to assist those in need of work.

Brooton had a disastrous fire which destroyed two hardware establishments and a general mercantile store. Loss $60,000.

The new theatre at Little Falls has been leased to Wisconsin men who will put on moving pictures, vaudeville and road shows.

It is expected that 10,000,000 feet of logs will be cut near Cloquet this winter. Four camps employing 300 men are operating on the Fond du Lac reservation.

An Indian and his squaw were drowned near Warroad recently, the birch canoe in which they were riding striking a snag and tearing a hole in the bottom.

Hibbing has been informed they can have free delivery if the city can show 8,000 people or that its post-office is doing an annual business of $10,000. Both can be verified.

W. R. Tanzer, formerly of Pequot, is now bookkeeper for Hollenbeck & Rush, book and door manufacturers, at Fresno, Cal., and writes the Review that he has just put in his garden.

Breckenridge is to have a white way, and the Telegram says "that in another 60 days the business part of the city will be lighted in the most modern and attractive way yet discovered."

The Times, published at Milaca, is now all home print which gives it an added value as an advertising medium and makes it more acceptable to its readers. The days of the ready print inside are fast disappearing.

The Hibbing Tribune calls it "bloody year on the range" owing to the number of murders and attempts occurring in that vicinity. Eight murder cases have been tried in the range district court, with seven convictions.

The Alitkin people demand that the Northern Pacific build them a new, modern, commodious and up-to-date brick and stone passenger station. The people of that town make this request believing that the revenue paid the company during the past years warrant the expenditure.

East Bluffton, Wadena county, is to be the scene of a big small game hunt to be participated in by the fair sex as well as the male hunters, and the two sides will be captained by ladies. Jack rabbits, snow shoe rabbits, squirrels and crows will be sought, each scoring so many points. The losers will have to furnish an oyster supper to the winners in the evening.

Could Shout For Joy

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice, and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters have no superior. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at H. P. Dunn's.—Adv.

The Circle

The ratio of the circumference of a circle to its diameter was first ascertained to some degree of exactness by Van Ceuten, a Dutchman. He found that if the diameter of a circle was 1 the circumference would be 3.141592653589793238462643383279502884 nearly, which is exactly true to thirty-six places of decimals and was effected by the continual bisection of an arc of a circle, a method so extremely laborious that it cost him incredible pains.

When Trousers Were Scarce

Trousers were banned among Quakers until the nineteenth century was halfway through. A correspondent of the London Notes and Queries writes on Feb. 2, 1896, that "in our retired northern dales the Quakers tenaciously hold by their breeches as a testimony against the modern vanity of trousers. I often heard my father, who could not endure the idea of trousers 'sluttering about his legs,' say that when he was a boy all the male population from three years old and upward, except sailors, wore cocked hats and knee breeches and that if a man was seen in trousers he was at once set down as a mariner."

It Worked Both Ways.

A good story is told of a judge who was trying a burglar. The defense was that the prisoner had been hypnotized and did not know what he was doing. The skeptical jury, however, found him guilty, and the judge promptly sentenced him to ten years in prison. Then he added in a kindly tone:

"The same power which enabled you to commit burglary and not know it ought also to enable you to suffer imprisonment with hard labor and not be aware of it. I would therefore advise you to send for the hypnotist and have him make you unconscious for the entire term of your imprisonment."

She Had Kissed the Blarney Stone.

"Oh, yes, mum," said Kathleen, applying for a new situation. "I lived in me last place three weeks, mum, an' though I say it th't shouldn't I geve excellent satisfaction."

"And why did you leave?" ventured the lady who was looking for a servant.

"Sure, I couldn't get along wid th' missus at all, she wor that ould an' cranky."

"But maybe you'll find me old and cranky too."

"Cranky ye may be, mum, for sweet faces likes yours is sometimes deceivin', but ye're not ould. I c'n see that at a glance!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

How He Learned English.

Carl Schurz once told a friend something of his early struggles with the English language. He knew it about as American college boys know their German—that is to say, barely at all. One day, "deciding such nonsense must end," he entered a bookstore and asked for the classic of the English language. A wise clerk gave him "The Vicar of Wakefield." He carefully translated it into German and put his work away for six weeks. At the end of that time he translated his translation back into English and then made a searching comparison between his version and that of Goldsmith's original. "After that," he said, "I knew English."

The Finest English Odes.

Among the many fine odes in the English language Macaulay characterized Dryden's "Alexander's Feast" as the noblest, and Dr. Richard Garnett agreed with him in thinking it the finest ode we have. The full title is "Alexander's Feast; or, The Power of Music—An Ode For St. Cecilia's Day." Spenser's "Epithalamium," Milton's "Ode on the Nativity," Keats' odes "To a Nightingale" and "On a Grecian Urn" and Shelley's "To a Skylark" are notable instances of this class of poem, and to these must be added, though their form is irregular, Wordsworth's magnificent "Intimations of Immortality" and Tennyson's "Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington."

Stripped at the Law.

Dickens describes in his novel "Bleak House" the woes of those who were involved in suits in the chancery court and the delays to which they were subjected before the English judicial procedure was reformed. Tradition says that an artist once represented the same idea in much less space. Two suitors in chancery, being reconciled to each other after a very tedious and expensive suit, applied to him to paint a device in commemoration of their return to peace and amity. He gave them entire satisfaction by painting them in the act of shaking hands—one clad in his shirt, the other without even that.

Voice of the Tiger.

The tiger may be "shod with silence," but he has a voice that is terrifying. It is said the voice of the tiger, a wonderful thing in its way, is not only the most mournful, but the most terrifying, of jungle sounds and that it is a powerful aid to him in his hunting. The natives believe the deer hearing the tiger's voice and unable from the reverberating nature of the sound to locate the position of the enemy stands still and so gives him the chance of stalking them. Sportsmen hold there is probably some truth in this, for unless one is following the tiger and has seen him it almost is impossible from the sound alone to tell with any certainty where he is.—New York Sun.

Acted on the Advice.

A well to do business man of Arkansas City tells a unique story of how he got started in life. When a young man, without much money, he struck New York city. While walking down the street he saw a sign which read, "We will tell you how to get rich for $1," says the Kansas City Journal. He went in and plunked down a dollar and received instructions in a sealed envelope. Going out on the street, he opened the envelope and found a slip of paper reading, "Work like the devil and save your money." Did he have the outfit arrested for swindling? No, indeed! He took their advice, and today he is worth more than $100,000.

Quite So.

A Washington clubman finds a certain fellow member irritatingly optimistic at times. With this chap every disagreeable thing has its compensations, a principle he never fails to give expression to whenever opportunity offers itself.

"How are you this morning?" asked the optimistic person as he encountered his friend in the breakfast room.

"I had a miserable night," said the other. "I never suffered so in my life."

The optimist reflected, "Hum! That's bad! But," he added brightening up, "you must remember that a bad night is better than no night at all!"—New York Press.

Barely Remembered.

"I suppose your late uncle didn't fail to remember you in his will," said the sympathetic friend.

Pay of French Presidents.

Marshal MacMahon paid more dearly than any other French president for the privilege of holding office, according to a story in the London Chronicle. He found it impossible to live with what he considered becoming pomp on his salary of £24,000 a year and after running through nearly all his private means became heavily involved. In his last year of office Gambetta persuaded the chamber to vote a lump sum for the payment of MacMahon's debts. It was then decided to raise the salary and allowances of the president to £48,000 a year, half of which is scheduled as "frais de representation."

Songless Spain.

There was almost as little acted as spoken drama in the streets. I have given my impression of the songlessness of Spain, in Madrid as elsewhere, but if there was no street singing there was often street playing by pathetic bands of blind minstrels with guitars and mandolins. The blind abound everywhere in Spain in that profession of street bergery which I always encouraged, believing, as I do, that comfort in this unbalanced world cannot be too constantly reminded of misery. As the hunchbacks are in Italy or the wooden peg legged in England, so the blind are in Spain for number—W. D. Howells in North American Review.

Japan's Great Bronze Bell.

In the temple of Chionin, at Kyoto, Japan, is a wonderful bronze bell, said to weigh 100 tons, and when its mellow boom is heard the pedestrian stands still, and the workman pauses to listen, the vibrations being felt over a large area. It has no tongue, but the end of a wooden beam, suspended horizontally in a platform, swings forcibly against the brazen mass. There are only two larger bells in the world, that of Mindon Min, in Burma, and one at Moscow.

SAFE RULES.

It is given to few persons to keep this secret well. Those who lay down rules too often break them, and the safest we are able to give is to listen much, to speak little and to say nothing that will ever give ground for regret.—La Rochefoucauld.

An Indian and his squaw were drowned near Warroad recently, the birch canoe in which they were riding striking a snag and tearing a hole in the bottom.

Hibbing has been informed they can have free delivery if the city can show 3,000 people or that its post-office is doing an annual business of $10,000. Both can be verified.

W. R. Tanzer, formerly of Pequot, is now bookkeeper for Hollenbeck & Rush, sash and door manufacturers, at Fresno, Cal., and writes the Review that he has just put in his garden.

Breckenridge is to have a white way, and the Telegram says "that in another 60 days the business part of the city will be lighted in the most modern and attractive way yet discovered."

The Times, published at Milaca, is now all home print which gives it an added value as an advertising medium and makes it more acceptable to its readers. The days of the ready print inside are fast disappearing.

The Hibbing Tribune calls it "bloody year on the range" owing to the number of murders and attempts occurring in that vicinity. Eight murder cases have been tried in the range district court, with seven convictions.

The Aitkin people demand that the Northern Pacific build them a new, modern, commodious and up-to-date brick and stone passenger station. The people of that town make this request believing that the revenue paid the company during the past years warrant the expenditure.

East Bluffton, Wadena county, is to be the scene of a big small game hunt to be participated in by the fair sex as well as the male hunters, and the two sides will be captained by ladies. Jack rabbits, snow shoe rabbits, squirrels and crows will be sought, each scoring so many points. The losers will have to furnish an oyster supper to the winners in the evening.

Could Shout For Joy

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Rader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice, and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters have no superior. Try them. Every bottle is guaranteed to satisfy. Only 50 cents at H. P. Dunn's.—Advt.

The Circle.

The ratio of the circumference of a circle to its diameter was first ascertained to some degree of exactness by Van Ceuten, a Dutchman. He found that if the diameter of a circle was 1 the circumference would be 3.1415926-5358973238462643383279502884 nearly, which is exactly true to thirty-six places of decimals and was effected by the continual bisection of an arc of a circle, a method so extremely laborious that it cost him incredible pains.

When Trousers Were Scarce.

Trousers were banned among Quakers until the nineteenth century was halfway through. A correspondent of the London Notes and Queries writes on Feb. 2, 1886, that "in our retired northern dales the Quakers tenaciously hold by their breeches as a testimony against the modern vanity of trousers. I often heard my father, who could not endure the idea of trousers 'sluttering about his legs,' say that when he was a boy all the male population from three years old and upward, except sailors, wore cocked hats and knee breeches and that if a man was seen in trousers he was at once set down as a mariner."

It Worked Both Ways.

A good story is told of a judge who was trying a burglar. The defense was that the prisoner had been hypnotized and did not know what he was doing. The skeptical jury, however, found him guilty, and the judge promptly sentenced him to ten years in prison. Then he added in a kindly tone:

"The same power which enabled you to commit burglary and not know it ought also to enable you to suffer imprisonment with hard labor and not be aware of it. I would therefore advise you to send for the hypnotist and have him make you unconscious for the entire term of your imprisonment."

She Had Kissed the Blarney Stone.

"Oh, yis, mum," said Kathleen, applying for a new situation, "I lived in me last place 'tween weeks, mum, an' though I say it th't shouldn't I gey excellent satisfaction."

"And why did you leave?" ventured the lady who was looking for a servant.

"Sure, I couldn't get along wid th' missus at all, she wor that ould an' cranky."

"But maybe you'll find me old and cranky too."

"Cranky ye may be, mum, for sweet faces likes yours is sometimes deceivin', but ye're not ould. I c'n see that at a glance!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

How He Learned English.

Carl Schurz once told a friend something of his early struggles with the English language. He knew it about as American college boys know their German—that is to say, barely at all. One day, "deciding such nonsense must end," he entered a bookstore and asked for the classic of the English language. A wise clerk gave him "The Vicar of Wakefield." He carefully translated it into German and put his work away for six weeks. At the end of that time he translated his translation back into English and then made a searching comparison between his version and that of Goldsmith's original. "After that," he said, "I knew English."

The Finest English Odes.

Among the many fine odes in the English language Macaulay characterized Dryden's "Alexander's Feast" as the noblest, and Dr. Richard Garnett agreed with him in thinking it the finest ode we have. The full title is "Alexander's Feast; or, The Power of Music—An Ode For St. Cecilia's Day." Spenser's "Ephalamium," Milton's "Ode on the Nativity," Keats' odes "To a Nightingale" and "On a Grecian Urn" and Shelley's "To a Skylark" are notable instances of this class of poem, and to these must be added, though their form is irregular, Wordsworth's magnificent "Intimations of Immortality" and Tennyson's "Ode on the Death of the Duke of Wellington."

Stripped at the Law.

Dickens describes in his novel "Bleak House" the woes of those who were involved in suits in the chancery court and the delays to which they were subjected before the English judicial procedure was reformed. Tradition says that an artist once represented the same idea in much less space. Two suitors in chancery, being reconciled to each other after a very tedious and expensive suit, applied to him to paint a device in commemoration of their return to peace and amity. He gave them entire satisfaction by painting them in the act of shaking hands—one clad in his shirt, the other without even that.

Voice of the Tiger.

The tiger may be "shod with silence," but he has a voice that is terrifying. It is said the voice of the tiger, a wonderful thing in its way, is not only the most mournful, but the most terrifying, of jungle sounds and that it is a powerful aid to him in his hunting. The natives believe the deer hearing the tiger's voice and unable from the reverberating nature of the sound to locate the position of the enemy stands still and so gives him the chance of stalking them. Sportsmen hold there is probably some truth in this, for unless one is following the tiger and has seen him it almost is impossible from the sound alone to tell with any certainty where he is.—New York Sun.

Acted on the Advice.

A well to do business man of Arkansas City tells a unique story of how he got started in life. When a young man, without much money, he struck New York city. While walking down the street he saw a sign which read, "We will tell you how to get rich for $1." says the Kansas City Journal. He went in and plunked down a dollar and received instructions in a sealed envelope. Going out on the street, he opened the envelope and found a slip of paper reading, "Work like the devil and save your money." Did he have the outfit arrested for swindling? No, indeed! He took their advice, and today he is worth more than $100,000.

Quite So.

A Washington clubman finds a certain fellow member irritatingly optimistic at times. With this chap every disagreeable thing has its compensations, a principle he never fails to give expression to whenever opportunity offers itself.

"How are you this morning?" asked the optimistic person as he encountered his friend in the breakfast room.

"I had a miserable night," said the other. "I never suffered so in my life."

"The optimist reflected, 'Hum! That's bad! But,' he added brightening up, 'you must remember that a bad night is better than no night at all!'"—New York Press.

Barely Remembered.

"I suppose your late uncle didn't fail to remember you in his will," said the sympathetic friend.

Marshal MacMahon paid more dearly than any other French president for the privilege of holding office, according to a story in the London Chronicle. He found it impossible to live with what he considered becoming pomp on his salary of £24,000 a year and after running through nearly all his private means became heavily involved. In his last year of office Gambetta persuaded the chamber to vote a lump sum for the payment of MacMahon's debts. It was then decided to raise the salary and allowances of the president to £48,000 a year, half of which is scheduled as "frais de representation."

Songless Spain.

There was almost as little acted as spoken drama in the streets. I have given my impression of the songless Spain, in Madrid as elsewhere, but if there was no street singing there was often street playing by pathetic bands of blind minstrels with guitars and mandolins. The blind abound everywhere in Spain in that profession of street bergary which I always encouraged, believing, as I do, that comfort in this unbalanced world cannot be too constantly reminded of misery. As the hunchbacks are in Italy or the wooden peg-legged in England, so the blind are in Spain for number.—W. D. Howells in North American Review.

Japan's Great Bronze Bell.

In the temple of Chionin, at Kyoto, Japan, is a wonderful bronze bell, said to weigh 100 tons, and when its mellow boom is heard the pedestrian stands still, and the workman pauses to listen, the vibrations being felt over a large area. It has no tongue, but the end of a wooden beam, suspended horizontally in a platform, swings forcibly against the brazen mass. There are only two larger bells in the world, that of Mindon Min, in Burma, and one at Moscow.

SAFE RULES.

It is given to few persons to keep this secret well. Those who lay down rules too often break them, and the safest we are able to give is to listen much, to speak little and to say nothing that will ever give ground for regret.—La Rochefoucauld.
